

EXPRESSION OF INTEREST

WORKING TOGETHER TO HELP MAKE REAL CHANGE FOR YOUNG TASMANIANS

Hi! I'm Issy Crompton, Tasmania's Interim Commissioner for Children and Young People and, together with the CCYP team, I'm setting up a new Council of young Tasmanians aged 12-17.

We want to work together with you to make sure the government knows what you think and includes your ideas on making Tasmania safer, more respectful, and fairer for children and young people. It's part of our job to make sure your views and ideas are taken seriously.

This work will include conversations about child sexual abuse and other important issues, helping to guide the work the government is doing to make Tasmania safer for all children and young people.

If you join, you'll be part of real conversations about what needs to change and how. We'll also make space for things that spark ideas and build community, like creative projects, group activities, and chances to meet inspiring people doing awesome work. This is about shaping change together, while also creating something hopeful and fun to be part of.

Together with members of my team, Maja and Erin, I would like to work with you to make sure your voices are taken seriously and acted upon.

WHO IS THIS FOR?

The Council will include up to 10 young Tasmanians aged 12-17 with different life experiences, perspectives and ideas, who care about making a difference for children and young people. You don't need any special skills or background, just a willingness to listen, learn, speak up, and support each other.

BEFORE YOU APPLY

Please read the Information Sheet. It explains:

- The benefits of participating
